FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT:

1. Each faculty chooses some of the methods of internal assessment like assignments, projects, class tests, internal examinations etc. the methods of assessment are chosen to check varied aspects of students' inculcation of knowledge like critical thinking, presentation, memory, application of knowledge etc.
2. Most of the subjects related to Arts and Commerce, and Humanities and some subject like Music, Home Economics and Computer related subjects in Commerce have practical. Students are assessed throughout the year through attendance and performance in the practical.
3. The students are monitored throughout the year by the mentors, class teachers and head of the departments.
4. After each test, the students are communicated about their performance. At the end of each semester, students' performance in each subject and each test is noted by the teacher and communicated to the students and parent/guardian.
5. In case of absence or bad performance of the students, a retest is held.
6. Complete transparency is followed in the entire process At the end of each semester, the university conducts a summative examination (theory and practicals).
7. Students get their results with all the internal and external marks.
8. In case of any discrepancy, students approach the university through the college examination section and their queries are solved.
